Says I to myself, that sermon's pat; But man's a queer creation; And I'm much afraid that most o' the folks

Wouldn't take the application. Now, if he had said a word about My personal mode o' sinnin', I'd have gone to work to right myself, And not set there a grimnin'. Just then the minister says, says he,

"And now I've come to the fellers Who've lost this shower by usin' their friends

As a sort o' moral umbrellers. Go home," says he, "and find your faults.
Instead of huntin' your brothers.
Go home," says he, "and wear the coats You've tried to fit on others."

My wife she nudged, and Brown h winked, And there was lots o' smilin', And lots o' lookin' at our pew; It set my blood a bilin'. Says I to myself, our minister

The Spirit of the Times. EDITOR EXPOSITOR.—In reference to the sermon, delivered on Sabbath evening, in regard to horse-racing, I would say, I enjoy a good horse and fail to see the harm in a fair open contest for speed. I also fail to see the difference between deacons drawing bedquilts by tickets, at church fairs, or fish ponds, or covering their wives and daughters with sheets and pillow cases and sell them to the highest bidder. Another lottery so frequently indulged in at church fairs are grabbags-filling the bag with envelopes containing imitations of neckties and blank envelopes, for five cents a draw, all to make money for our amiable elder. These must be right for the elder attends them. As for there being a difference between trotting horses for premiums and deacons raffling for bedquilts, I fail to see it, as far as the turpitude of the transactions is concerned-excopt that lotteries are illegal and horse-races are not—the ultimate intent of the one to improve churches, At DETROIT, MICHIGAN, has on hand the man to be without brains that drives a horse in a race is wrong, and a mistake. At takes a good steady brain and nerve. In my estimation it is just as bad for one deacon to drive his horse fast on the road as the other on the course. The scription of the script the other to improve horses. A the other on the course. The scripture says "Judge not that ye be not Detroit, April 10, 1881. judged; with the same measure ye with a very large revival in Speaker during the last month. If he was called by satan the Lord would not bless his work. Some deacons should have more power of God in their souls and less selfrighteons-ness then there would be souls converted during their preaching.

There was a man in our town, and he was wonderous wise, for when he marked his prices down he then did advertise. And when he saw his trade increase, with all his might and main, he marked still lower every price and advertised again. And when he advertised again his rivals loudly swore, to see folks rush with might and main to patronize his store And while they sat in solitude and say him custom win, that man be-hind the counter stood and raked the he took a goodly lot of tin and kept on advertising. My Dear Mr. Sutherland.—My wife having suffered greatly from Rheumatism, she was induced to try your RHEUMATINE. After taking only two bottles she was completely cured of Rheumatism, and her general health greatly improved. I also took three bottles of Rheumatine with the result that I now find my Rheumatism entirely gone, and a very marked improvement in my general health. I consider Rheumatine a first-class remedy for Rheumatism and all affections of the kidneys. I am, yours truly, PRED MOSCHELL.
